BGP.UK.COM AGAINST THE WIREFRAMES

Every page of the live site set beside the December wireframe it was built from. The layouts now follow the drawings. What is left is content.

PREPARED FOR EMMY AND CHARLOTTE · 16 OCTOBER 2026 · CAPTURES TAKEN FROM WWW.BGP.UK.COM THIS MORNING

The wireframes were drawn in December 2025. Each page below is the live site captured this morning, set beside its slide. The site had drifted from the drawings during the brand work: intros had been centred, statements moved off the photos, the grey bands dropped. That has been put back. Every page now opens with the statement over the photo, sets its headings left over a rule, and uses grey bands for key contacts and the case study, as drawn.

What you will still see differ between the two columns is content, not layout: a photo that has not been supplied, a quote that is still placeholder text, three case study descriptions that repeat the same sentence, a field the leasing tracker does not hold yet. Each of those slots is built and takes the content the moment it arrives.

The type and colour follow the August brand guidelines rather than the wireframe placeholders: Century Gothic headlines in upper case, Bordeaux, Nectar, Stone and the Feather ground.

BUILT AS DRAWN	All twelve pages: Home, Leasing, Listing, Estate and sector pages, Investment, Investment case study, Brand Representation, Lease Advisory, Consultancy, News, Article, Team. Layout, section order and section treatment match the slides.
DELIBERATE CHANGES	Four sector tiles on Leasing so visitors reach Shopping Centres, London Estates, The City and High Streets. One page per sector rather than per estate. Brand type and colour throughout.

	• Three Lease Advisory case study descriptions. The same sentence is repeated on all three. • Client quotes for the investment case studies, and a second contact for Lease Advisory. • Case studies for The City and High Streets sector pages. • Nearest stations on listing cards, once the leasing tracker has a transport field. • Bios for everyone on the Team page.
NOT BUILT	One page per estate with its own map (Grosvenor, Crown Estate, Portman). The site groups estates into sector pages instead. Half a day if wanted, and needs estate copy and contacts for each.

WHAT WOULD CLOSE THE GAPS

1. Photos. A team group shot, Harriette's headshot, and the Frankie Shop store.
2. Words. Cat Jenkins' quote, three Lease Advisory case study summaries, client quotes for the investment case studies, bios for the team.
3. Case studies. One or two each for The City and High Streets.
4. Data. A nearest-station field on the leasing tracker, if we want stations on cards.

Send any of these to Woody and they go on the site the same day. Nothing on this list needs design or build work.
